Friday was Faith And Diversity Day

We have this day to highlight to children the broadness of our world and to develop a respect, understanding and enjoyment of other faiths.

Our theme was "Celebrations".

We had a dance workshop with Mrs Prince enjoying the celebrations linked to Chinese New Year. (We will work more closely on this the week of the 8th February.

We looked at the Jewish Friday celebration of Shabbat, the centre piece of Jewish life. Shabbat is a day of rest and celebration that begins on Friday at sunset and ends on the following evening after nightfall.

What celebrations are important in our culture? Weddings, Christenings, birthdays, Christmas and New Year.

Are there any common links to other faiths?

We looked at Diwali and began to see the links between how light and colour are so familiar in our own culture through candles for example.
